Monmouth Plantation receives elite distinction by Travel & Leisure

Natchez, MS– Monmouth Plantation has been named by Travel & Leisure magazine to its 2007 T + L 500 list. Once again, Travel & Leisure's team of editors and reporters around the globe have delivered the definitive guide to the greatest hotels worldwide. This annual list identifies the 500 highest rated properties in the world, based on reader evaluations in Travel & Leisure's 2006 World's Best Awards survey.

“We are honored to receive this recognition for our efforts on behalf of our guests by the readers and staff of this esteemed publication,” said Lani Riches, co-owner of Monmouth Plantation with her husband Ron.

Nestled amid a 26 acre wooded park in the heart of Natchez, Mississippi, Monmouth Plantation, a National Historic Landmark (circa 1818), is an ideal venue for corporate retreats, executive meetings and weddings, and as a romantic getaway for leisure travelers. Monmouth Plantation, in its entire splendor and timeless glory, graciously waits to enfold its guests in luxury and service.

Monmouth guests can enjoy a fabulous dinner in the main house, play croquet by the pergola, sit in the Adirondacks and soak in the day, stroll leisurely around the 29-acre grounds, view the pond from the gazebo, sip on cocktails in the courtyard or at the bar, and relax amid the southern charm of Monmouth's tall oaks.

Rated four diamonds by AAA, Monmouth Plantation is proud to be a member of Small Luxury Hotels of the World, Historic Hotels of America, Select Registry and featured in Conde Nast Johansen's Guide.
